What every business needs to know about an unclean restroom...

"Bathroom Cleanliness indicates employee and store practices, as well as management's seriousness about sanitation."

"Washrooms will always tell you if a company cares about customers and their employees"

How can you make sure that your customers and employees are satisfied with the level of cleanliness when they open a restroom door?

By making sure that all surfaces are cleaned and disinfected on a frequent basis.

I am shocked about the conditions of many of the bathrooms that we recently took over from other facility service providers. Every new client tells us that they can not believe the difference in the appearance level after we perform the first several cleaning services.

Ben Bugajewski was elected to the Board of Directors of the Professional Retail Store Maintenance Association this past year by the membership. This association has over 1500 members involved in retail store facility maintenance and construction.
